

An organization is a kind of machine. Many parts need to work together seamlessly. But not all do. Why are some organizations well-oiled, smooth running, able to shift gears at a moment's notice, and adored by customers? How does an organization get there?

CLICK. VROOM. PURR.

Sure, the quality of the parts is important. Knowing how to care for them is too. Some need grease, some need oil, some need to be checked for wear periodically. But it's not only the quality of the parts. It's the relationship of the parts to each other - the smooth power transitions. Some can run free while others need limiters to avoid overloading related parts. Whole assemblies can be grouped together for improved performance. And since you can't improve what you can't measure, there's constant monitoring: the temperature, pressure, speed and wear levels.

Your organization is more than a machine. It is comprised of humans -- each with different feelings, aspirations, and communication styles.

Get Set

Evenson Enterprises is a consulting firm that can help you shape and guide your organization into a smooth-running, nimble team. We help create organizations capable of thinking creatively, strategically, and technically, along with the structure that encourages the ability to execute.

ORGANIZATIONAL MECHANICS.

We do not start with a certain philosophy or methodology to “fix” anything. We listen intently to your needs. We observe how the organization acts and interacts. We look at how “transparent” the operation is, and look for ways to improve it: in communication style, in process, in both individual and group environments.

Creating a flexible framework for ensuring repeatable success is the best foundation you can provide an organization. This is our passion.

Benefits of our services include:

- A repeatable methodology for success
- A framework for individual decision making
- Increased visibility into your projects
- Smoother communication and collaboration
- Increased teamwork and employee morale
- More satisfied clients and customers

We can provide services in harder to define areas such as reorganization and post-merger integration, process creation, and inter-department communication. Our services are always tailored to your needs.

We have worked with groups from start-ups still defining their corporate culture to departments of companies building a more repeatable product development process. If you think your organization can be tuned to work better, we can help.

Go.